Aim

This work instruction provides guidance on the process for endorsing requests from WA Health Service Providers or agencies outside of WA Health to adopt and/or modify the ESCALATION System, including the PARROT chart.

Risk

Non-compliance with this work instruction may result in:

1. Using the ESCALATION System and PARROT not based on the best available evidence.
2. Adverse patient outcomes resulting from modifications to the ESCALATION system and PARROT without proper review, leading to a lack of evidence-based standardisation in recognising and responding to pediatric clinical deterioration.
3. Breach of copyright: The ESCALATION System, which includes the PARROT chart, is owned by the Child and Adolescent Health Service and Curtin University.

Background

WA Health, St John, WA, Royal Flying Doctor Service, WA, and several private health facilities use the ESCALATION system and PARROT chart to recognise and respond to clinical deterioration.

Other health facilities may need to adapt the escalation of care responses when adopting the ESCALATION System, including the PARROT.

Principles

- Any provider adopting or modifying the ESCALATION System and PARROT must first submit a Request for Use or Change ESCALATION form to the CAHS Escalation System Working Group for consideration and assessment.
- The role of the CAHS ESCALATION System Working Group in reviewing all Escalation Request for Use or Change forms is to:
 - Ensure the integrity of the ESCALATION System and PARROT in detecting acute deterioration when applied to the requesting provider setting.
 - To provide a formal endorsement process for requests to adopt and/or modify the ESCALATION System and PARROT to be made.
